

The Tahirih Justice Center is a national, non-profit organization that protects courageous immigrant women and girls who refuse to be victims of violence such as rape, domestic violence, female genital mutilation/cutting, forced marriage, and human trafficking.

Our holistic model for protection combines free legal services and social services case management with bridge-building policy advocacy, and research-based training and education.

Our programs efficiently and effectively leverage donated professional services from a vast network of attorneys, medical professionals, and other experts to serve as many women and girls as possible.

By elevating the voices of women and girls seeking justice in communities, courts, and Congress, Tahirih's mission is to create a world where women and girls enjoy equality and live in safety and with dignity.

WE ARE FOSTERING LASTING CHANGE THROUGH

non-partisan advocacy

Tahirih's policy team elevates the voices of immigrant women and girls in communities, courts, and Congress to effect systemic change, ensuring that laws and policies protect survivors from violence and exploitation.

IN 2017, WE:

Testified before the House Judiciary Committee on survivors' need to access emergency services and call 911

Served as an expert in meetings with White House staff on immigrant and refugee survivors' rights

Secured the removal of detained survivors' legally-protected information from a new Department of Homeland Security (DHS) online database

Published unique analysis of the likely impact of the Presidential Executive Orders on immigrant survivors of violence

PRESIDENTIAL EXECUTIVE THEIR IMPACT ORDERS & TAHIRIH'S RESPONSE

On January 25 and March 6, 2017, the President signed Executive Orders that would significantly shift U.S. immigration policy and make it more difficult for immigrant women and girls who are entitled to protection under well-established law to access those protections.

THE EXECUTIVE ORDERS:

while they sought protection

Caused the arrest and deportation of survivors of violence, and separated mothers from children

Deterred victims from coming forward to law enforcement for help

Undermined protections for immigrant survivors in laws with bipartisan support like the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA)

Shut out women and children fleeing violence who asked for legal protection at our borders

Overwhelmed an already backlogged system, forcing many to wait years for a hearing

"THE EXECUTIVE ORDERS
DIAL BACK YEARS OF PROGRESS,
DENYING WOMEN FLEEING
VIOLENCE SAFETY OR PROTECTION
WHEN THEY NEED IT MOST."

ARCHI PYATI
Tahirih's Chief of Policy

TAHIRIH'S DECISIVE RESPONSE:

Hired a litigation attorney who led our involvement in over 10 federal law suits

Retained a media consulting company that enabled 619 media appearances, an increase of nearly 600% from 2016

Conducted extensive outreach with members of Congress; testified against legislation and mobilized local resistance

Educated advocates for survivors of violence about the impact of these Orders on immigrant victims

Allocated $50,000 in Emergency Fund support to each office to provide help to those in danger

Partnered on a national survey that shows immigrant survivors of violence are reporting crime at lower levels than before the Orders

Conducted a study about the needs of immigrant women with the support of the Ford Foundation, through a contract from NEO Philanthropy

WE ARE WORKING TO END child and forced marriage in the united states

Tahirih's Forced Marriage Initiative leads the national movement to protect the rights of individuals fleeing forced marriages and is a vehicle to address systemic issues that leave hundreds of women and girls (and men and boys) vulnerable to this human rights abuse every year.

IN 2017, WE:

Triaged 261 emergency requests from 69 individuals seeking protection and 192 advocates, allies, and other professionals helping those facing forced marriage issues—from 26 states and nearly every region of the globe—and equipped 1,963 frontline professionals with critical tools to identify forced marriage and protect victims

Achieved historic new minimum marriage age laws in Texas and New York, building on our 2016 victory in Virginia, and worked intensively on bills to reform laws in over 10 other states

Published a comprehensive new report on child marriage in all 50 states and the District of Columbia, Falling Through the Cracks: How Laws Allow Child Marriage to Happen in Today's America

Elevated the issue of child marriage in the U.S. by organizing a public panel event at Google's Washington, DC offices that featured child marriage survivors sharing their stories

Released 13 new reports on forced marriage overseas, developed through a partnership with Mayer Brown LLP and Caterpillar, Inc., providing individuals at risk with critical information on how to seek safety at the click of a button

Thanks to the generosity of our Tahirih family, our Ready to Soar Expansion Campaign raised more than $10 million and has allowed us to increase the number of women and girls we serve by an incredible 250%.

NORMA'S STORY

I was only 15 years old when I was abducted, raped, and forced into marriage by an older man who threatened to kill my family if I refused. At 20 years old, while pregnant, I was hospitalized after a brutal beating; the baby barely survived. My father helped me into hiding and hired a private attorney to file for my divorce. We knew it was only a matter of time before my ex-husband found me. Fearing for my life, I fled to the United States.

Now free from my ex-husband, I began a new life. Years later, I fell in love with John who was smart, fun-loving, and handsome. After living together as a family for 3 happy years, John began drinking heavily, staying out all night, and one day, admitted to cheating on me. He begged for my forgiveness and swore he would change. With promises of a better future, I moved with John to Houston. We bought a house with our shared savings, and he proposed marriage.

Soon after, John started drinking again. This time, he beat and raped me. He would lock me outside or force me to sleep on the floor. He became increasingly abusive, blaming my performance as a wife and mother for the pain he inflicted.

When I finally built up the courage to leave, John used my children's and my undocumented status to intimidate me. He promised to have us deported if we called the police, and he destroyed my personal documents to prevent me from filing for immigration relief on my own. He removed my name from our shared bank accounts, canceled my credit card, and eventually forged my signature to transfer full ownership of our house to his name.

Just when I started to give up, a neighbor offered me a place to stay and connected me to a domestic violence support group where I was referred to Tahirih.

Thanks to Tahirih, I now know that fear can be overcome, we are never alone, and there is always a path forward.

OUR CLIENTS COME FROM EVERY CORNER OF THE GLOBE, BUT NOW LIVE IN THE UNITED STATES.

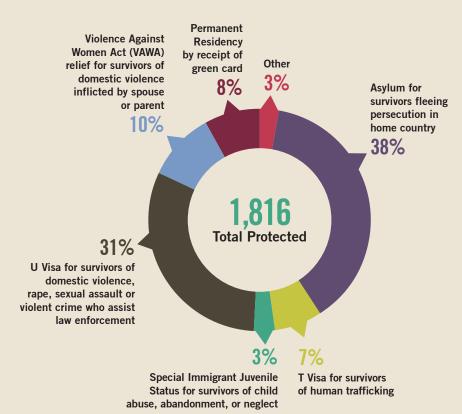

In 2017, our top 5 countries of origin were:

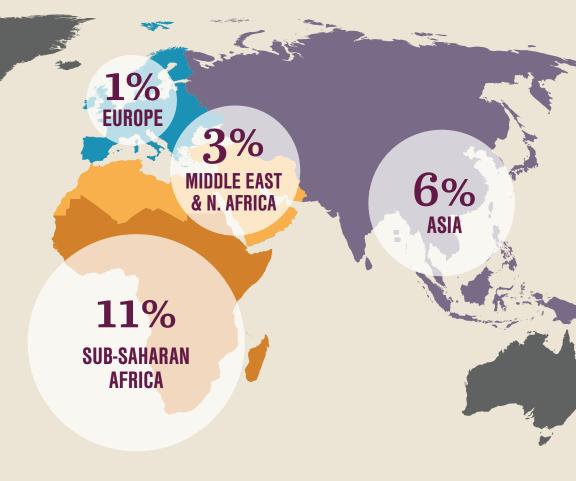

- 1. Honduras
- 2. El Salvador
- 3. Mexico
- 4. Guatemala
- 5. Nigeria

In addition to experiencing violence in their origin country, about 70% of our clients have also experienced violence since coming here to the U.S.
